THE WINES OF SOUTHOLD FARM + CELLAR

The story of Regan and Carey Meador is certainly an interesting one. The couple began making wine on the North Fork of New York's Long Island in 2012 . Although self taught and new to viticulture, the Meadors found they had a natural talent for making interesting, delicious wines with esoteric varietals. Having found success and seeking to improve thier facilities they set out to build a new facility on thier farm, but due to some archaic zoning laws the town of Southold forbid them from doing so. Left with no way to make sell thier wines they decided to pack up, their sell thier farm and move down to Reagan's home state of Texas. Now, settled in the hills outside Fredericksburg, Texas the couple has started to experiment with new varietals and terroir. So for the first time in Texas, we can offer New York wines made by a Texan winery. It doesn't hurt that they are delicious.

CHRIS BROCKWAY OF BROC CELLARS

is our kind of wine maker. From the first moment we tasted his wines we were hooked. Chris is a wizard at sourcing both traditional California varietals as well as some more, as he would put it, off the wall grapes (Valdigue anyone!?). Working in an urban winery in a warehouse in Berkeley (just next door to one of our other favorite producers, Donkey & Goat), Chris is able to create some of the most easily drinkable, food friendly wines we have come across. At the same time coaxing amazing aromas, textures, and nuance in the glass. Here are some of our favorites. Cheers!

THE RARE WINE COMPANY’S HISTORIC SERIES

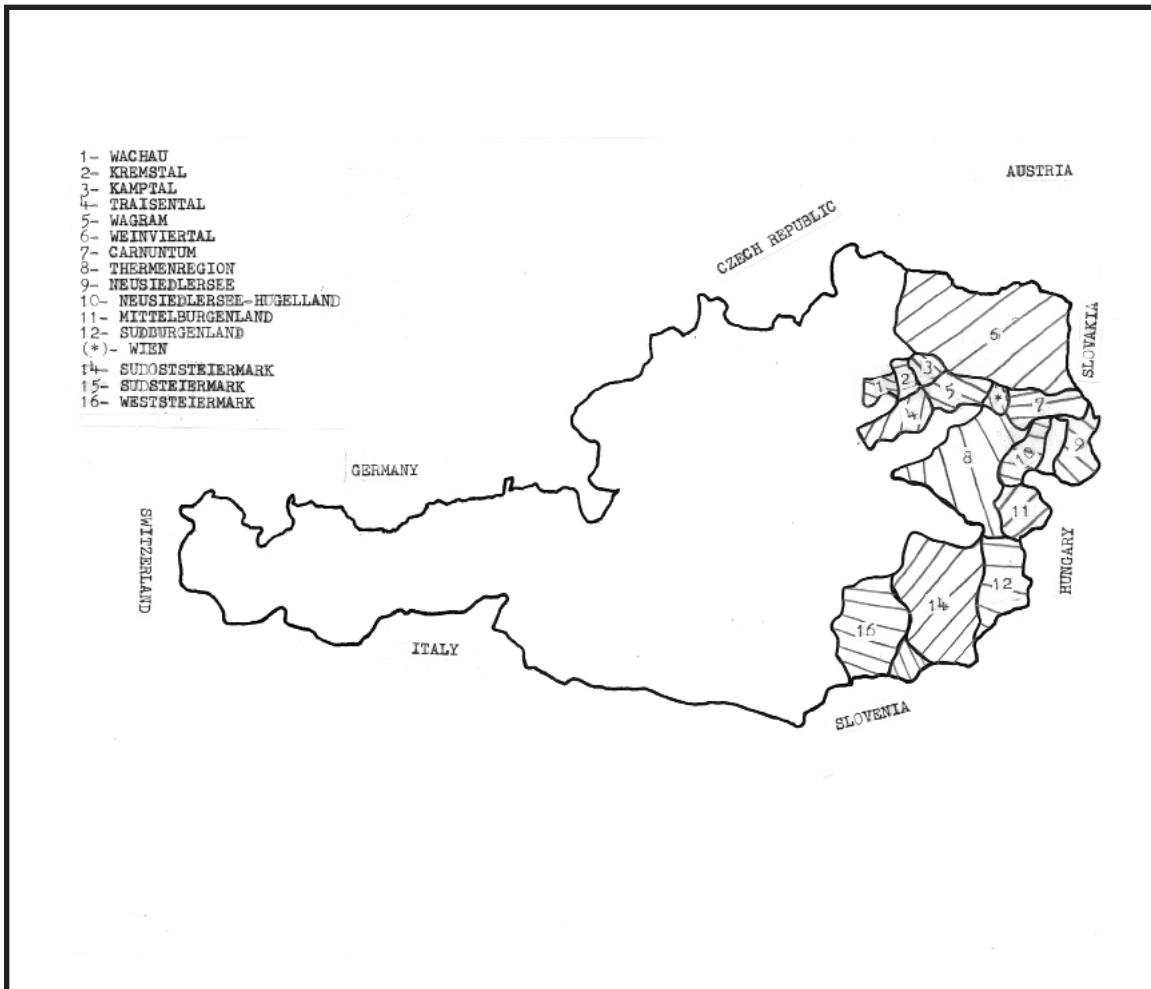

To emphasize America’s deep historical connection to Madeira, each wine in the series is named for a U.S. city where Madeira was popular in the 18th and 19th centuries. Thus, Charleston Sercial and Savannah Verdelho celebrate the South’s love of drier Madeiras, while Boston Bual and New York Malmsey acknowledge the North’s appreciation of sweeter Madeiras! It’s basically a (delicious) liquid history lesson.

THE MASTER OF NOBLE ROT

Often times people think of dessert wines as being too sweet and un balanced. Weinlaubenhof Kracher has made their name by defying those ideas. Three generations of winemakers have taken the winery to the very top of their industry by consistently producing wines of incredible balance, finesse and character. The following wines are offered both by the bottle and by the glass (3oz.). The sweetness levels increase from top to bottom.

Chardonnay/Riesling, Beerenauslese, Cuvee, Neusiedlersee, 2012, 375ml . . .	20/80
Welschriesling, Trockenbeerenauslese, "No. 7," 2011 375ml	36/144
Muskat Ottonel, Trockenbeeren Auslese, "No. 9," 2011 375ml38/152
